

- g. The length of a new rectangular playing field is 4 yards longer than triple the width. If the perimeter of the rectangular playing field is 344 yards, what are its dimensions?

5

Solving a formula for a variable means rewriting the formula so that the variable is isolated on one side of the equation. It does not mean obtaining a numerical value for that variable.

Example 2: Solve each formula for the specified variable.