

The General Form of the Equation of a Circle

The general form of the equation of a circle is $x^2 + y^2 + Dx + Ey + F = 0$ where D , E , and F are real numbers.

Example 5: Complete the square and write the equation in standard form. Then give the center and radius of each circle and graph the equation

