

Rationalizing a denominator that contains two terms.

Multiply the numerator and denominator by the conjugate of the denominator. Then simplify both the numerator and the denominator.

Example 5: Rationalize the denominator and simplify, if possible.